How Handmade Life Began

The idea for Handmade Life Magazine began back in 2011, when it was the thick of the economic downturn and many creatives, myself included, found themselves lacking 9-5 jobs and pursuing alternative careers. I had started my online jewelry business, years before on the side and now with all my new found time I was exploring ways to connect with other artists, along with exploring ways to grow our handmade business. With the introduction of digital books and the failing economy, it seemed like many of my favorite magazines were closing up shop and going away.

On my dirt road to artisan bliss, I began a group in Southern California called the Oceanside Craft Mafia and started connecting with other makers. I felt like we artisans are social creatures who enjoy sharing our creations, sharing ideas and shop talk with similar folk. While my road, often feels like it has been a long up hill road with many detours and Y's in the road, I continue to try to find a few like minded individuals that would commit to this artisan magazine. I wanted a partner to join forces with and join me in the grit and my crazy hustle, and help my bring this magazine to life. While I found many contributors, no diehard conspirators appeared in my headlights.

Then during this summer, I said "That it's, quit trying to find a team and just do it yourself." So I did!
- So here we are together, at the begining of something great.

Dealing with light is often the most significant challenge faced by amateur photographers. This step by step how-to will help you to make a handy low-cost lightbox.

You will need:

- 1 large sheet of foam board (25 cm x 65 cm) - to adapt if you need a bigger lightbox
- 1 cutter
- 1 role of gaffer tape
- aluminium foil
- 2 desk lamps with clips
- 1 ruler and 1 pencil
- 1 A3 sheet of paper

Tunnel Vision

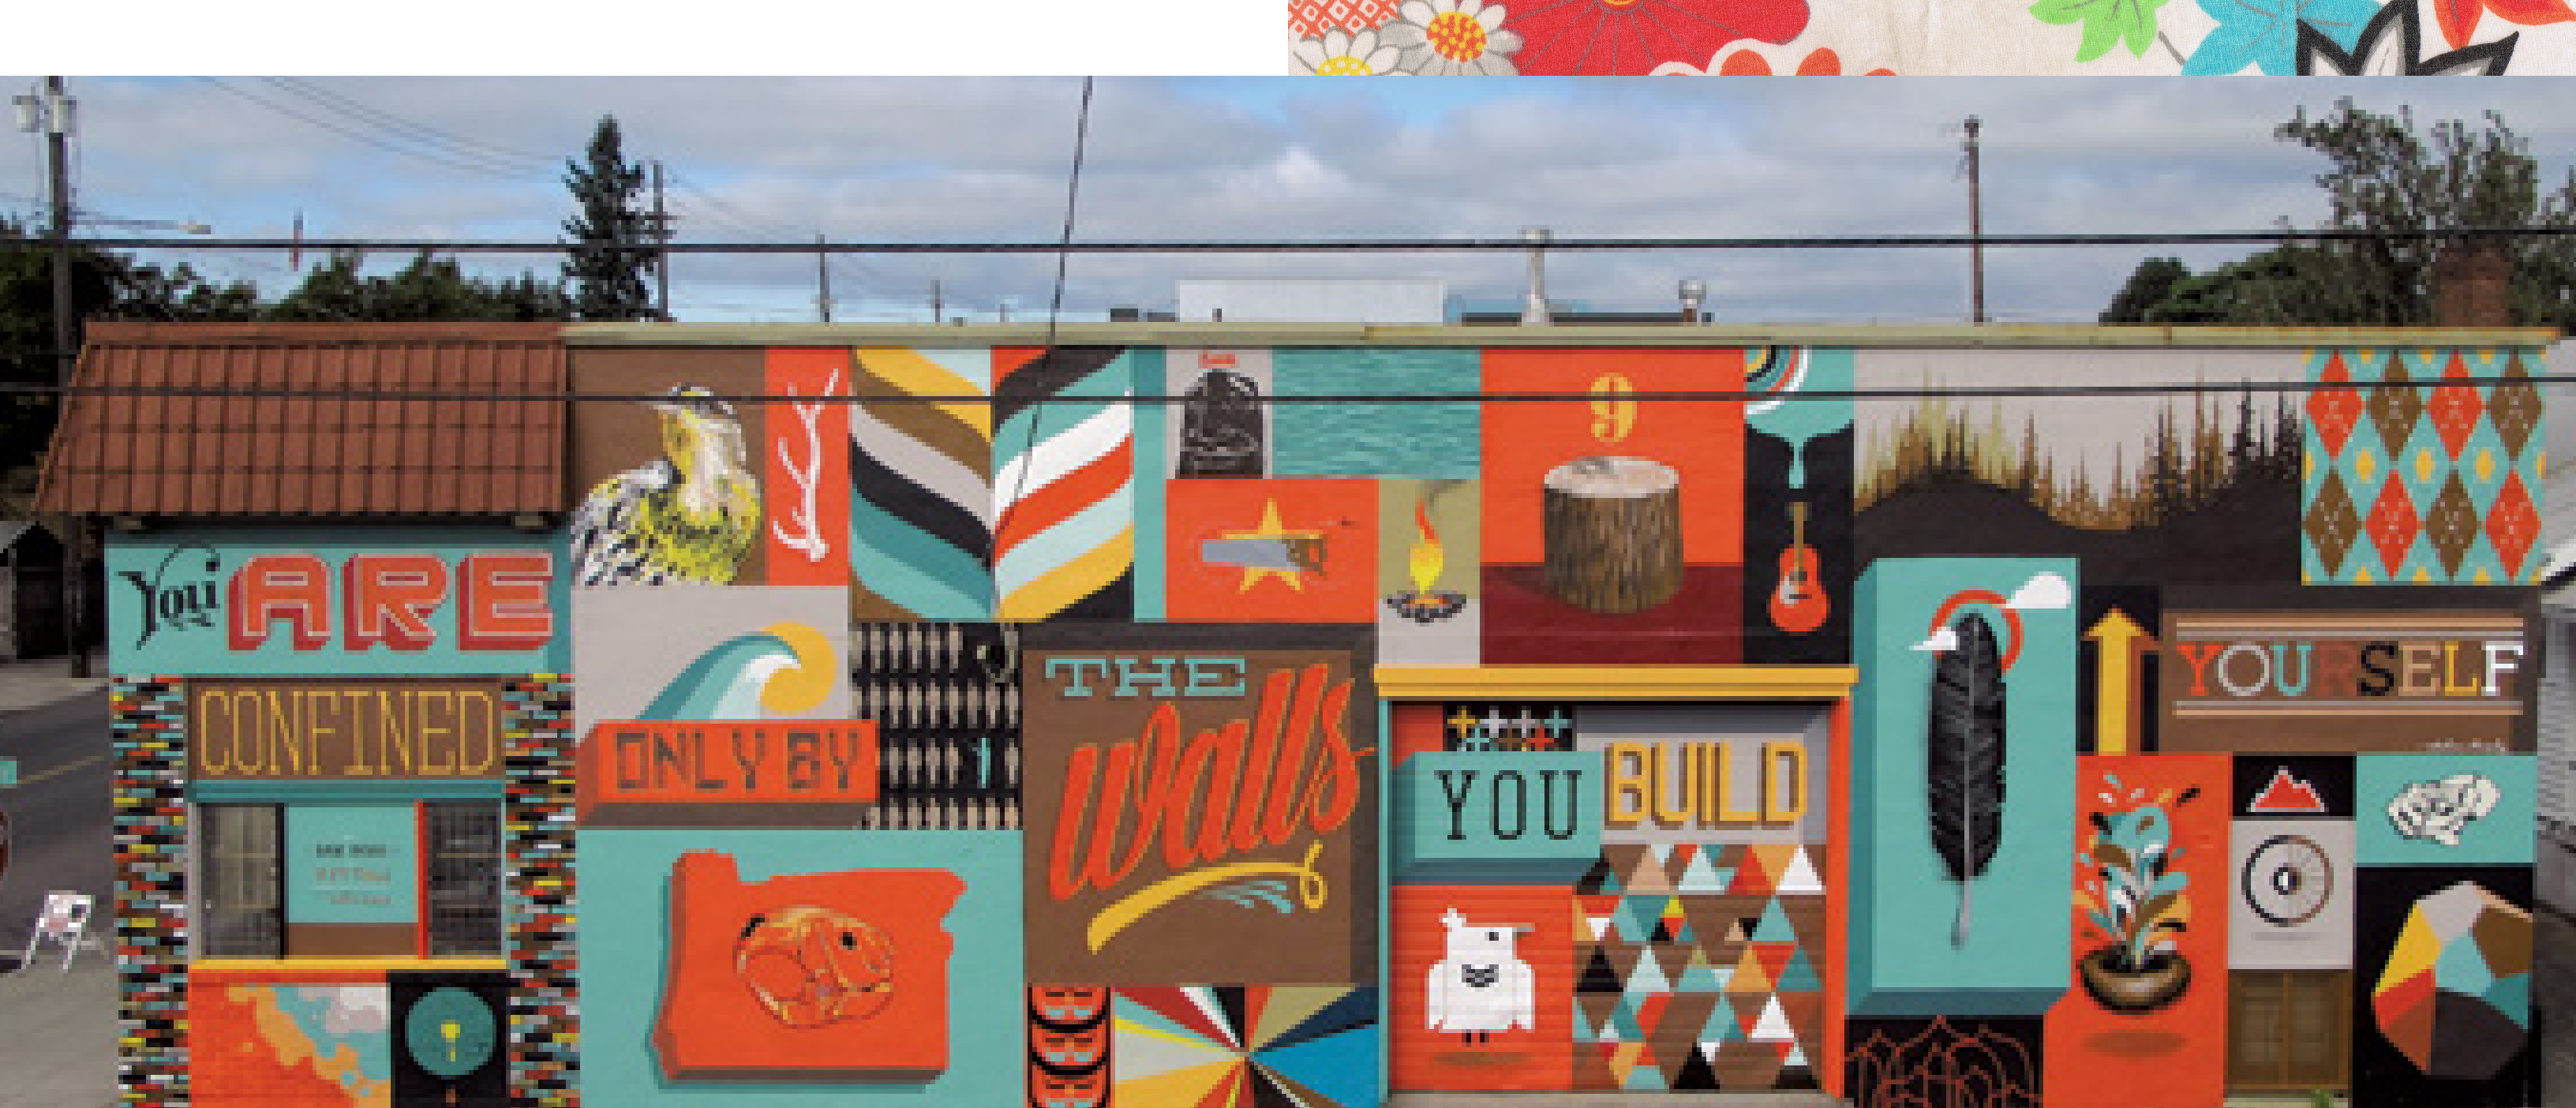

Tunnel Vision is quickly becoming Southern California's favorite new Surf, Reggae, Ska band. The band is comprised of five musicians who grew up in the San Diego area with instruments in their hands and skateboards and surfboards under their feet. Tunnel Vision originally formed as a three-piece band, with Hayden Hanson as the lead singer and guitarist, Jacob Hernandez on bass, and Tanner Payan on drums and additional vocals. The three have been long time friends, who grew up surfing spots like SC Pier, Calafia, 204's, Black's, Oceanside Jetty, Trestle's, and T-street and Skateboarding iconic bowls like The Vans Combi, Encinitas YMCA, Clairemont, Carmel Valley and Oceanside's MLK Skatepark.

Growing up in SoCal, the band was heavily influenced by the Punk Rock, Reggae and Ska Music of bands like The Descendents, Black Flag, Misfits, Sublime, Slightly Stoopid, The Expendables, NoFX, Rancid, and Reel Big Fish, etc. The boys have all worked in the surf industry for years, starting out in retail for Rip Curl and moving on to manufacturing surfboards for Lost Enterprises.

In 2015, Anthony Levato joined the Tunnel Vision crew and started managing the boys. Anthony connected Tunnel Vision with Tom Maxwell of Whiskey Barrel Records and together they all connected with San Diego favorite Miles, Kyle & Dela of Slightly Stoopid. Slightly Stoopid let them record their debut album at Slightly Stoopid's "The Lab" Studio in San Diego. They created a self titled debut album Tunnel Vision and is now available on iTunes and the store section of their web site www.tunnelvisionsc.com.

Make sure to sign up for their email list and follow them on Facebook, Instagram and YouTube.

Ideas

Creative Ideas that are floating around and need to be excited. My daily regime involves swimming or Stand Up Paddling. I spend an hour or two doing one or both of these activities daily. And I am a photo taker. I take a ridiculous amount of photographs. I think of it more as documenting living. I like living and I love looking back at photos and recalling some event, and if I take a photos, I am more likely to remember it. And since I never know what I will see while enjoying these activities. I always want to take my camera with me. Right now when I am partaking in water activities I use a Go Pro 3. It's fun and although they make all sorts of great mounts for Go Pro's I think there is room for one more. I would like a bikini top that is bra style with either a T-strap back or 2 adjustable straps. A top for women who are active in the water. In the front of the suit there is a pocket or that your GoPro fits into. There is also a tether maybe something like plastic ball chain that holds the camera just in case. I think this would allow me to easily have my GoPro with me and also have my hands free and utilize bikini that I am already wearing. If you need a tester to try your prototype, let me know I am available.
